

RM-10869 While I can appreciate the early pioneers of radio and current operators using Morse code, times have changed. Today it is only one of the various operating modes. We have not required licenses to be tested on other operating modes. Drop the code. And no to increasing to 13WPM if the requirement is retained for Extra class.